DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-14 are pending and subject to restriction requirement.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-2, drawn to a method for detecting coliform and confirming E. coli coliform in a sample by using a medium with a chromagen and a fluorogen, classified in class 435, subclass 34, for example.
- II. Claims 3-4, drawn to a method for detecting coliform and confirming E. coli coliform in a sample by using a medium with a fluorogen, classified in class 435, subclass 34, for example.
- III. Claims 5-6, drawn to a method for detecting coliform and confirming E. coli coliform in a sample by using a medium with a chromagen, classified in class 435, subclass 34, for example.
- IV. Claims 7-14, drawn to a device for detecting coliform and confirming E. coli coliform in a sample including a culture medium, pH buffer, a chromagen and a fluorogen, classified in class 435, subclass 283.1+, for example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The method of Inventions I and the methods of Inventions II-III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because there are other materially different methods for detecting coliforms such as those based on the detection of certain enzymes specific to coliforms, as Applicants recited on page 1, par. 4 of the instant specification. The subcombination has separate utility such as to screen for compounds that inhibit coliform growth or inhibit the coliform enzymes.

The device(s) of invention IV and the methods of inventions I-III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case devices with chromagen and fluorogen can be used for detecting growth of other than coliforms and E.coli such as Pseudomonas, Staphylococcus, etc., for example: see US 4,853,186 at col. 6, lines 50-55, and at table VII.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for one group is not required for the other group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1651

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
